➤ Reading: A Weather Forecast*101) See what a journalist says about the weather in some countries of the world.

Journalist: Good afternoon. The weather in the world is totally different in many countries where we can find rain, wind, snow and hot temperature.

In Korea (Asia), for example, it's summer. The temperature is about thirty-two degree Celsius (90°F). Although it's hot, it's still humid and rainy.

Above, in Russia, it's winter. The temperature is almost twelve degree Celsius below zero (10°F). It's very cold and it's snowy. Don't go to the streets without a very warm coat.

Here in the United States it's fall. The temperature is related about ten degree Celsius (50°F). It's cool, but the day will be a little dark because of the clouds, and be careful with the cold wind.

Finally we've got in Brazil. It's spring in there and the temperature is thirty-eight degree Celsius (100°F). It's a sunny day and it's very warm what means that the summer is going to be very hot in that South America country.

This is the news about the weather for today. I hope you enjoy your day of Saturday and have a great weekend. Goodbye.

102) Now answer these questions:

a) What time is the news?

b) What is the season in Korea?

c) What is the weather like in Russia?

d) What is the Celsius temperature in Russia?

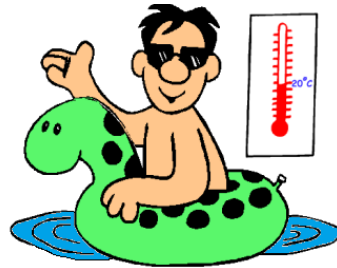

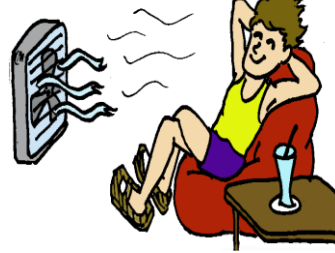

e) How will be the day in the USA?

f) What is the Fahrenheit temperature in Brazil?

g) Which day is the news?

➤ Temperature

Hot*Warm*Cool*Cold

A: Today it is (.....) _____.

It's very cold and snowy.
The temperature is four degrees below zero.

It's really hot and sunny.
It's a perfect day to surf today.

F = FahrenheitC = Celsius or centigrade

To convert Fahrenheit temperature into Celsius or Centigrade: subtract 32 and multiply by 5/9 (five-ninths).

To convert Celsius or Centigrade temperature into Fahrenheit multiply by 9/5 (nine-fifths) and add 32.

	F	C
Boiling point	212°	100°
Freezing point	32°	0°

What's the weather like in Florida?

It's extremely hot and sunny.

What's the weather like in Montana?

Quite freezing.
I'm an ice cube.

➤ SIMPLE PRESENT*(AFFIRMATIVE) 3RD SINGULAR PERSON

- As you can see on the page before, for the third singular person (He, She, It) it is necessary to add the letter 'S' in the end of the verb in affirmative sentences.

- Now let's remember a little the rule for the nouns in the plural:

- Most nouns:
pen(s) – pencil(s) – door(s)
- Finished in 'Y':
boy(s) – toy(s) – monkey(s)
cit(ies) – butterfl(ies) – cand(ies)
- Finished in 'O, S, SS, SH, CH, X, Z':
tomato(es) – bus(es) – kiss(es) – watch(es) – fox(es) – quizz(es)

It happens because of the necessity of 'S' in the words.

- The same idea will be used to include the 'S' in the 3rd singular verbs.

- Most verbs:
talk(s) – sit(s) – read(s) – think(s)
- Finished in 'Y':
play(s) – buy(s) – pay(s) – say(s)
stud(ies) – tr(ies) – cr(ies)
- Finished in 'O, S, SS, SH, CH, X, Z':
go(es) – do(es) – pass(es) – wash(es) – watch(es) – box(es)
- Have ⇒ HAS

PS: Remember this 'S' does not represent plural of the verbs, it is necessary because of the end of the words.

TO GO Affirmative	TO BUY Affirmative	TO FLY Affirmative	TO TEACH Affirmative	TO HAVE Affirmative
I go You go	I buy You buy	I fly You fly	I teach You teach	I have You have
He goES She goES It goES	He buyS She buyS It buyS	He flIES She flIES It flIES	He teachES She teachES It teachES	He haS She haS It haS

177) Identify the kind of music.

178) Read this text.

Music ≠ Song and the Industry of Music.

Music is an art form and cultural activity which uses sound and silence. The common elements used are melody, harmony, rhythm, dynamics and timbre. It is performed with a vast range of instruments and vocal techniques. There are different styles (kinds, types) of music; these types are named genres. Each genre can be divided in subgenres.

A song is a single work of music. It can have a lyric or not. It always has a melody. It can be sung by a solo singer, a lead singer supported by background singers, a duet, a trio, a quartet, a harmony, a choral, etc. The instruments are selected according to the genre of music.

A Compact Disc (CD) is the object used to store and play songs. It was created to be the successor of the vinyl record and audio cassettes. But to use a CD it is necessary to have a CD player.

A single, or record single, is a type of release. In most cases, a single is recorded in a CD with fewer tracks than an LP record or an album, or sold by digital download or commercial radios. These songs are expected to be the most popular ones.

184) Read.

The history of rock music.

The first kind of rock music was rock'n'roll. It was born in the 1950s, in the United States. At that time, there were two separate musical traditions in America. The first tradition was popular African-American music, the blues. The second tradition was the music popular with white Americans, especially country-and-western music.

Rock'n'roll was the combination of the two traditions, black and white. The first rock superstar, Elvis Presley, was white, but his voice was like the voice of an African-American. Elvis died in 1977. But even today, some people still call him "the king" of rock music.

In the 1960s, psychedelic rock was very popular, especially the music on The Beatles, a British group. The other popular type of rock music in that decade was the Motown sound, from the motor town: Detroit, Michigan. One of the original Motown singers was Diana Ross.

191) Reading

A Day at the Mall

John Green takes his family to the mall. There are plenty of stores, and they see many different things. At the shoe shop, they see a few boots and lots of sneakers. There is also a new brand of high heels. At the electronics store, Mrs. Green sees a TV she wants to buy for the family. John asks the salesman “How much is it?”, pointing to the TV, and the salesman answers “That TV is $2,499, sir”.

John is astonished! “That is a lot of money, honey”, he says. “Besides, the kids are happy with their presents. How about some ice-cream instead?” The children like the idea. They all scream, “Yeah, daddy, let's go!”

➤ MODAL VERBS

MODAL VERB is a term used to talk about some special verbs which show something is (or is not) certain, probable or possible to happen. We also use them to talk about ability, ask permission, make a request or an advice, etc.

- All modal verbs must be used in all types of sentences (affirmative, negative, interrogative)
- All modal verbs are followed by a based verb

I – CAN

- We use can to talk about our abilities or skills.

I can drive a car.

She can play the piano.

They can sing very well.

- We use it to talk about possibilities or permissions.

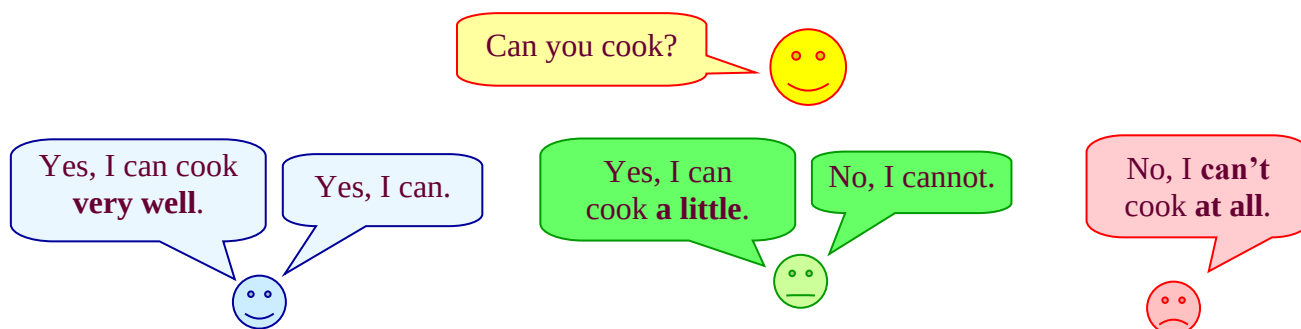

Can we open the window, please?

You can watch TV after your homework.

* The negative form of can is = can not / can't / cannot

I can't draw at all.

We cannot leave now. It's raining cats and dogs! Let's wait.

193) I can.... / I can't ...

➤ PRESENT CONTINUOUS (PROGRESSIVE)

We use the Present Continuous to talk about something that is happening at the moment. In this case it is necessary to use two verbs: the verb to be (am, are, is) and one more verb finished with gerund (ING).

Person + To be + VERB(ing)

I am studying / You are talking / He is listening

198) What are they doing?

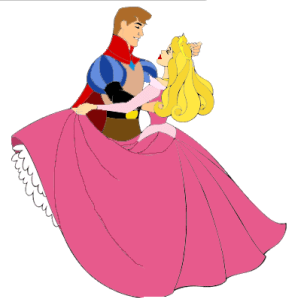

open – cook – dance – play – greet – eat – look – sleep – read – date – draw

They are _____

Pooh is _____

They're _____

They're _____

Goofy's _____

Bela is _____

She is _____ the window

They are _____

Snoopy's _____

Garfield is _____

The Prince's _____

RULE:

- Some verbs suffer a variation:

When the last letter is 'e', drop it and add the gerund (ing):

dance → dancing	come → coming	write → writing	compare → comparing
love → loving	take → taking	live → living	give → giving

When it is the verb to be or when the two last letter are 'ee', just add the gerund (ing):

be → being	/	see → seeing	flee → fleeing	free → freeing
pee → peeing

When the last stressed syllable is CVC ⇨ (consonant + vowel + consonant)

Double the last letter:

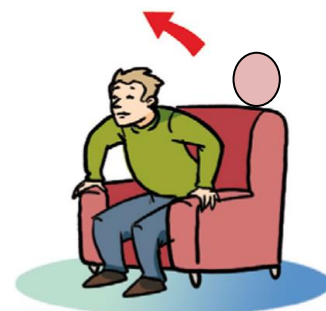

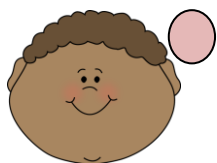

get → getting	shop → shopping	swim → swimming	jog → jogging	hit → hitting	let → letting sit → sitting	stop → stopping	run → running	cut → cutting	win → winning

Irregulars:

Lie → lying	Tie → tying	Die → dying
-------------	-------------	-------------

199) Who is ...?

212) Read carefully. After answers the questions according to the text.

It is a rainy Saturday. It's raining a lot and Mary and her family are spending the afternoon at home. Her uncles¹ are visiting here.

Mary and her father are in the living room. Mary is making a draw and her dad, Mr. Harris, is surfing the net. They are also talking.

Mary's older brother, Peter, is in his bedroom playing computer games. He is a computer fanatic and spends much time playing on the computer. His little brother, Jim, is also in the living room. He is playing with his dinosaurs' collection. Sometimes he teases Mary, he is a really naughty boy.

Mary's mother, Mrs. Harris, is in the kitchen preparing a snack for all of them. She is making some tea and talking to Mary's uncles – Lucy and Tom. They are from the nearest town and stopped by to say hello.

Fluffy, the family cat, is sleeping on the kitchen's sofa. We can't see him in the picture, but he is a true fluffy cat.

<https://pt.scribd.com/doc/202630972/Reading-Comprehension-Present-Continuous>

¹ Uncles, in this situation, correspond to uncle and aunt – but it is not a correct form to use because the word uncle is a male word; it is not unisex or a collective. To talk about the both members use “her uncle and aunt”.

➤ WILL (FUTURE – III)

- Will is a modal verb (2).

Do you remember what a modal verb is?

Special verbs which show something is (or is not) certain, probable or possible to happen, etc. And we use them in all types of sentences (affirmative, negative, interrogative) followed by a base verb.

The modal Will is used:

- to talk about things we know will happen in the future.

- It's her birthday tomorrow. She 'll be 22 years old.
- Attention all passengers! Our flight will land in 25 minutes. Put your sit belt, please!

- to indicate things we think will happen in the future

- I 'll be famous one day!
- I guess He won't sleep early tonight. He has too much homework to do.

- to say something is probable

- You 'll probably understand this lesson very well.
- They 'll probably go to the cinema tonight.

See that we don't used "will" for planned future. It's used just to inform some obvious things, thoughts, probabilities and when you decide to do something without planning:

Wow! I paid all my bills and left over some. I know! I'll go to the mall.

258) Complete the following sentences with the will future form.

- He _____ (call) you tomorrow in the afternoon.
- She _____ (help) me with homework.

Mike: Here's a geography quiz in the paper.

Wendy: Oh, I love geography. Ask me the questions.

Mike: Sure, first question. Which country is larger, China or Canada?

Wendy: I know. Canada is larger than China.

Mike: OK, next. What's the longest river in the Americas?

Wendy: Hmm, I think it's the Mississippi.

Mike: Here's a hard one. Which country is more crowded, Monaco or Singapore?

Wendy: I'm not sure. I think Monaco is more crowded.

Mike: OK, one more. Which South American capital city is the highest: La Paz, Quito or Bogotá?

Wendy: Oh, that's easy. Bogotá is the highest.

Part #2

Mike: So let's see how you did on this quiz. The first question: Which is larger, China or Canada? You said...

Wendy: Canada.

Mike: And you're right! Both are large, but Canada is larger. Next: What's the longest river in the Americas? You said the Mississippi. Sorry, no. It's the Amazon.

Wendy: Oh, of course.

Mike: This next question I didn't know. Monaco is more crowded than Singapore.

Wendy: So I got it right? I just guessed.

Mike: And finally, you said that Bogotá is the highest capital city in South America.

Wendy: Yeah, I remember hearing that somewhere.

Mike: Sorry, Wendy, but you're wrong. La Paz in Bolivia is the highest.

Wendy: Really? Gee, I guess I didn't do so well – two right but two wrong!

301) ReadingThe Beatles

The Beatles were a legendary rock group that formed in Liverpool, England, in 1960, and went on to transform popular music as a creative, highly commercial art form over the next decade. The Beatles were one of the most popular bands of all time, producing songs like "Yesterday, "Hey Jude," "Penny Lane, "With A Little Help From My Friends," "Norwegian Wood (This Bird Has Flown)," "Day Tripper" and "Come Together." Learn more about the "Fab Four"—John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr—by exploring our Beatles collection.

John Lennon (a little biography)

John Lennon was born in Liverpool in 1940. He learned to play the guitar, and with his friends formed a group called The Quarry men. This group later became The Beatles. John with Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Star wrote and performed some of the most famous songs ever and started a new wave of music.

After John and his first wife Cynthia were divorced he met and married Yoko Ono. At around the same time The Beatles were splitting up. John went on with his career but this time he was alone. During this time he wrote ballads and promoted peace and love.

He and his wife even started a protest by lying in bed with TV cameras.

One autumn morning in 1980 as he was leaving his house in New York, John Lennon was shot six times and died. But his music is still popular today.

➤ PAST CONTINUOUS / PAST PROGRESSIVE

We use the Past Continuous to talk about continues actions that happened in the past.

It is necessary to use the verb to be in the past and gerund:

PERSON + TO BE (PAST) + VERB(ing) + COMPLEMENT

Ex:

I was working an hour ago.

❖ To express 2 or more sentences that happened at the same time in the past.
(We usually use the word 'while').

- I was reading a book while you were watching TV.
- My dad was doing the dishes while my mom was cooking.
- While the boys were playing soccer, the girls were playing volleyball.

❖ To express a continuous action in the past, which was already happening, when another more specific action occurred

- I was working when the electricity went out.
- He was leaving when she called.
- They were sleeping when the doorbell rang.

❖ To express a habitual ongoing action that occurred in the past.
(In this case, some adverbs of frequency are generally used: constantly, often, rarely, occasionally, weekly, monthly, yearly)

- He was constantly owing money to his friends.
- She was often asking for help.
- They were always making the same mistakes.

❖ To establish a temporal relationship between a continuous action that occurred in the past and the present moment.

(We commonly use certain time expressions: by this time, yesterday, last night, etc)

- By this time last month, we were celebrating her graduation.
- We were living in Miami last year.
- They are doing their homework now, but they were running around the classroom some minutes ago.

303) Complete the sentences putting the verb in the parentheses in the past continuous.

 You _____ the best _____ _____ in me
 _____ me up when I couldn't reach
 You _____ me faith 'cause you

 I'm everything I am
 Because you _____ me

You _____ me wings and _____ me
 fly
 You _____ my hand I could touch the sky
 I _____ my faith, you _____ it back to me
 You _____ no star _____ out of reach
 You stood by me and I stood tall
 I _____ your love I _____ it all
 I'm grateful for each day you _____ me
 Maybe I don't know that much
 But I know this much is true
 I _____ blessed because I _____ loved by you

Chorus

You _____ always there for me
 The tender wind that _____ me
 A light in the dark shining your love into my life
 You've been my inspiration
 Through the lies you _____ the truth
 My world is a better place because of you

Chorus (2x)
